

LASTEST ON GENESIS JOY HOUSE HOMELESS SHELTER

Wednesday, July 12, 2023
Mandy Hazelton

Genesis Joy House President of Board of Directors with the Amazon Military Veterans at the Robins Air Force Base Refuge, Airman Ministry Center.

In a heartwarming collaboration, the Genesis Joy House Homeless Shelter has joined forces with retail giant Amazon to provide a delicious dinner for over 130 junior enlisted airmen. This remarkable partnership not only showcases the power of community support but also demonstrates the commitment of these organizations to honor and assist those who have served their country. By combining resources and goodwill, they have managed to create an unforgettable evening for these deserving individuals.

The Genesis Joy House is a well-known nonprofit organization dedicated to helping homeless women veterans' transition back into civilian life. Their mission encompasses not only providing safe and stable housing but also offering support services such as counseling, job placement, and healthcare assistance. The shelter acts as a haven for these brave women, empowering them to rebuild their lives and regain their independence.

As one of the world's largest e-commerce companies, Amazon is no stranger to philanthropic endeavors. The company has consistently demonstrated dedication to making a positive impact in communities across the globe. Through initiatives such as AmazonSmile, which donates a portion of eligible purchases to charity, and their "Fulfillment by Amazon" which ensures unsold inventory goes to nonprofits, Amazon has consistently shown its commitment to helping those in need.

Recognizing the shared goal of supporting Veterans, Genesis Joy House and Amazon came together to create a memorable evening for junior enlisted airmen. The partnership aimed to not only provide a delicious dinner but also foster a sense of community and appreciation for these servicemen and women.

Partnerships that Strengthen the Community

The dinner event was a testament to the power of collaboration. The evening was filled with gratitude, camaraderie, and a shared celebration of the sacrifices made by brave Airmen. The meal, expertly prepared by Moe's, featured a Mexican styled theme.

The Amazon team, led by Mrs. Kris Lattimer (pictured in the Blue "Warriors @ Amazon" shirt) played a pivotal role in ensuring the success of the event. The company not only provided financial support for the dinner but also collaborated with the Chapel staff, SrA Gabriel Fresa to ensure a smooth operation. Their commitment to efficiency and attention to detail allowed them to create a meaningful experience for the Airmen.

Looking ahead, both Genesis Joy House Homeless Shelter and Amazon are committed to continuing their support for veterans and active-duty military personnel. They plan to expand their collaboration through additional events, mentorship programs, and resource-sharing initiatives. By leveraging their collective strengths, they aim to create lasting change and improve the lives of those who have sacrificed so much for their country.

Airman enjoying dinner at the Robins Air force Base, Refuge.

The partnership between the Genesis Joy House Homeless Shelter and Amazon to provide dinner for over 130 junior enlisted Airmen is an inspiring example of community support and appreciation for our servicemen and women. Through their combined efforts, these organizations have created an unforgettable evening, conveying gratitude for the sacrifices made by these individuals. This collaboration serves as a beacon of hope, reminding us of the importance of supporting and honoring those who have served their country.